DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114 was filed in this application after appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, but prior to a decision on the appeal. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114 and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the appeal has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114 and prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 3/29/07 has been entered.

Claims 1-10, and 14-36 are pending in the case.

Receipt of an Information Disclosure Statement on 3/29/07 is acknowledged. References on the page marked "Copy" have been crossed through since they are duplicates

Specification

The attempt to incorporate subject matter into this application by reference to a patent application is ineffective because incorporation by reference of essential material is only allowed when referring to published US applications or US patents.. The incorporation by reference will not be effective until correction is made to comply with 37 CFR 1.57(b), (c), or (d). If the incorporated material is relied upon to meet any outstanding objection, rejection, or other requirement imposed by the Office, the correction must be made within any time period set by the Office for responding to the objection, rejection, or other requirement for the incorporation to be effective.

Compliance will not be held in abeyance with respect to responding to the objection, rejection, or other requirement for the incorporation to be effective. In no case may the correction be made later than the close of prosecution as defined in 37 CFR 1.114(b), or abandonment of the application, whichever occurs earlier.

Any correction inserting material by amendment that was previously incorporated by reference must be accompanied by a statement that the material being inserted is the material incorporated by reference and the amendment contains no new matter. 37 CFR 1.57(f).

The following are new rejections:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-10 and 14-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The specification as originally filed does not provide support for the invention as now claimed: "and the at least first and second pseudotyped lentiviral vectors are designed to express no viral protein-encoding sequences and each express sequences comprising the polypeptide-encoding sequence of interest in either a sense or an antisense orientation" (claims 1, 21 and 22)

This a new matter rejection. The specification does not provide sufficient blazemarks nor direction for the instant methods encompassing the above-mentioned limitations, as currently recited. The instant claims now recite limitations which were not clearly disclosed in the specification as-filed, and now change the scope of the instant disclosure as-filed. Such limitations recited in the present claims, which did not appear in the specification, as filed, introduce new concepts and violate the description requirement of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112.

Although applicants point to paragraph 051 of publication 20040203017, this section of the publication refers to the patent application 09/653,088, and incorporates this application by reference, further stating that the vectors are preferably designed to express little or no vector born sequences other than the gene of interest. However, the attempt to incorporate essential material by reference to a patent application is improper and it is considered that the disclosure does not provide support for the claims as currently amended. Furthermore, it does not appear that the application 09/653,088 (now US Patent 6,627,442) discloses "a pseudotyped lentiviral vector that is designed to express no viral protein-encoding sequences", i.e. a pseudotyped lentiviral vector that does not express any viral protein-encoding sequences.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-10 and 14-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are vague and indefinite in the recitation of "the at least first and second pseudotyped lentiviral vectors are designed to express no viral protein-encoding sequences and each express sequences comprising the polypeptide-encoding sequence of interest in either a sense or an antisense orientation" since it is unclear whether it is intended that the polypeptide-encoding sequence of interest cannot be a viral sequence, or whether it is intended that only the lentiviral vector portion cannot contain any viral protein encoding sequences that are expressed, but that viral protein encoding sequences can be the "polypeptide-encoding sequence of interest".
